GETTING THE JOB DONE IN A THRIVING WEBB BUBBLE

R. KEITH MICHEL '73
President

At the Board of Trustees meeting on October 15, 2020, I announced plans to retire on June 30, 2022.

Time passes by so quickly at Webb. It seems like only yesterday that we were planning for our six-year Campaign for Webb, initiating implementation of the 2013 Strategic Plan, and were in the early planning stages for much needed infrastructure enhancements to Webb's campus. We have now completed our successful Campaign, are fully immersed in the implementation of the 2019 Strategic Plan, and are putting to good use our recently completed Couch Academic Center. We have installed a faster and more reliable information technology network, new septic systems, and a new watermain. Work to repurpose the Stevenson Taylor Hall classrooms to dormitory spaces is well underway. The dormitory rooms will be ready for occupancy at the start of the Spring 2021 semester. The Thorpe Athletic Field has been re-pitched and fitted with a sprinkler system. Thanks to the generosity of the Class of 1975, red oak and sugar maple trees have recently been planted along the periphery of the field (see below).

Webb has remained COVID-free since the outbreak began in the early spring. All students are on campus for this fall semester, with most of the classes and all labs being taught in person. Our students have demonstrated resiliency and a sense of responsibility throughout the pandemic. The isolated location of the Webb campus, lamented over the years by our more gregarious students, is now a great asset. We have created a Webb bubble, limited travel to more essential needs, and enjoyed the safety of the confines of the Webb campus. Thanks to the generous gift from the classes of 1977 and 1988, and to the hard work of Paul Vibrans '71, the automated gates we recently installed at the entrances to campus have served us well, limiting the number of uninvited guests roaming the grounds.

Faculty and staff have done an outstanding job of dealing with the challenges posed by COVID-19, including navigating a smooth transition to distance learning last March. I have not heard a single complaint all year—we are just simply getting the job done. We are now formulating plans for 2021. Winter Work will proceed as usual, with the exception of the Sophomore Sea Term, which will be postponed until the summer of 2021. We expect all students to return to campus for the spring semester. While COVID-19 protocols will remain in place at the start of the spring semester, we all anxiously await the development of an effective vaccine and remain hopeful that we can hold an in-person Homecoming event on May 22nd. The final decision regarding Homecoming will be made in mid-March. Stay tuned.

The class of 2020 designed and partially funded a gazebo being built in memory of my wife, Peggy. The gazebo, located adjacent to the Student Garden, has a majestic view of Long Island Sound. It will no doubt be a popular hangout for future generations of Webb students. The Class of 2020 planned on completing construction prior to graduation, but the pandemic got in the way. Students are continuing work this semester with the intent of completing construction prior to the Class of 2020 Commencement exercises currently planned for May 1, 2021. For those filling out your calendars, graduation for the class of 2021 will be on June 12th. We are eliminating spring break and completing the spring semester a week earlier than normal, thereby allowing additional time for the Sophomore Sea Term.

We continue to attract 28 outstanding freshmen each year. In the last ten years, the number of applicants has more than doubled. As explained in the Message from Chairman of the Board Bruce Rosenblatt (see p. 4), our commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion includes a goal of further diversifying the student body. We are seeking to increase the number of female students which has hovered around 24% over the last five years. In the two years since we established room and board scholarships to meet full “demonstrated need,” we have realized sharp increases in the number of economically disadvantaged students and a three-fold increase in the number of underrepresented minorities.

As we transition out of the Campaign for Webb, fundraising has continued to exceed our budgetary projections. Thanks so much for your support of Webb! Once again, both alumni and parent participation rates exceeded 70%. These numbers make Webb the envy of development programs nationwide. Last March, we rebated a portion of room and board payments when we sent students home because of the high COVID infection rates in the State of New York. The parents and students demonstrated their commitment to Webb by returning a portion of those refunds as gifts to the college.

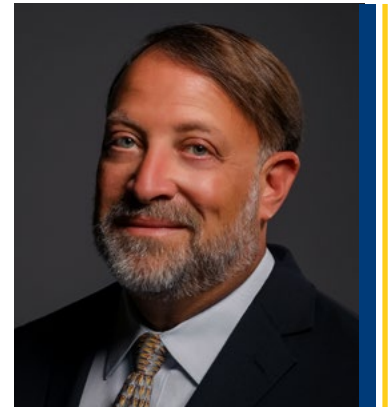

Wishing you a healthy and happy Holiday Season!

A MESSAGE FROM
THE CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

WEBB'S VILLAGE

BRUCE ROSENBLATT (HON.)
Chairman of the Board

As I complete my fourth year as Chairman of the Board, I am grateful for the progress made possible by the hard work and dedication of Webb's family. The administration, faculty, staff, students, fellow trustees, alumni, and friends are the reasons that Webb continues to graduate highly capable and well-respected young men and women, as evidenced by the continued industry demand for Webb graduates. Webb has an outstanding leadership team, and my efforts were more effective because of their tireless and efficient work.

Webb has been extraordinarily resilient and successful in spite of the COVID-19 pandemic. At a time when many colleges and universities experienced significant decreases in fundraising revenue, some of which even made the painful decisions to cease solicitations, the Webb family continues to demonstrate their steadfast support—from alumni, parents, past parents, students, faculty, staff, trustees, and friends of Webb alike. It truly takes a village. As just one example of the overwhelming generosity of Webb's family, in March 2020, when most Webb students went home to begin online learning because of the pandemic, those same students and their parents received prorated room and board rebates. Nearly $50,000 of these refunds were returned to Webb as gifts.

As you learned from the President's message, Keith Michel '73 has announced his well-deserved plans to retire in June 2022. It is too early to recount his extraordinary achievements as President as he continues to guide Webb to present-day successes. Although I am profoundly sad that his retirement is now on the horizon, and I fully recognize that his imminent departure leaves a tremendous void to fill, I am confident that our Presidential search will produce a competent visionary who will propel Webb to even greater heights.

I'm sure you recall that last year the Planning Committee, led by Trustee David Bovet '70, completed our Strategic Plan. As the next step, Webb's Administration has developed a detailed Implementation Plan which serves as a roadmap to Webb's continued success in every facet of Webb operations. I am grateful to everyone involved for their efforts to ensure that Webb's priorities articulated in the Strategic Plan are being realized. Early reports by the Administration are encouraging.

At its annual meeting on October 15th, the Board of Trustees reaffirmed its commitment to a resolution promoting diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) at Webb. A special thanks to Trustee George Campbell for chairing the Board's DEI Committee, and for championing an initiative in consonance with our mission and our understanding of the intentions of our founder, William H. Webb. This resolution demands that we include among students, faculty, staff, and trustees the intellectual capabilities, talents, creative abilities, and distinctive perspectives of the diversity of populations that comprise the United States. This breadth of diversity includes differences in race, religion, gender, sexual orientation, socioeconomic status, and political beliefs. I am proud of Webb's progress in DEI initiatives over the last several years and excited about the progress we are charting for the future. Our continued commitment to a more diverse and equitable campus environment will promote an environment in which students, faculty, and staff members can fully realize their capacity to grow and learn.

It has been my pleasure to have served as Chairman of the Board, and I look forward to serving next year. I am humbled by this opportunity to be a meaningful part of the Webb community and excited about the prospects for the coming year.

A MESSAGE FROM THE DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEE CHAIR

OVERCOMING A CHALLENGING YEAR THROUGH YOUR UNWAVERING SUPPORT

ALISON D. GRANGER P'14 (HON.)
Development Committee Chair

Dear Friends,

As we entered Webb's 2019-2020 fiscal year, we knew that from a fundraising standpoint, we would have to work hard to achieve annual giving results similar to those reached during the recently-concluded, highly-successful Campaign for Webb. Little did we know that the challenge of the pandemic was just around the corner. Not only would it impact our personal lives, but it would impede Webb's ability to provide in-person education to its entire student body. It was also necessary to cease all non-essential visits to campus. We enthusiastically look forward to the day when Webb can once again welcome you in person.

In spite of these challenges, Webb's administration, Development Office staff, and volunteers employed creativity and frequent outreach to compensate for our inability to interact with alumni, parents, and friends as we have in the past. The annual phonathon during which pledges are solicited was replaced with Webb Cares, whereby hundreds of outreach calls were made by 24 Webb students to check in and share experiences with many of Webb's older alumni. A COVID-19 fund was established to assist with increased operating costs related to the pandemic. It has been generously supported. When pro-rated rebates for room and board were sent to families of students who returned to their homes because of the pandemic, many returned these rebates to Webb as charitable donations. These are only a few of many examples illustrating the unwavering generosity of the Webb family. In their entirety, these activities and others led to strong fundraising results for the fiscal year. Nearly $2.5 million in total contributions were received last year. Webb's alumni once again strongly supported the Webb Alumni Fund by donating over $2.0 million with 70% of alumni participating. Similarly, parents of Webb's current students, as well as parents of alumni, gave generously with high levels of participation, while significant donations from members of Webb's Heritage Society were received. These results would not have been possible without the hard work of many people. My personal thanks go to my colleagues on Webb's Development Committee for their dedication, thoughtful perspective, and stewardship. The Committee is deeply appreciative of the volunteer efforts of Webb Alumni Fund Chair Jake Neuman '93, Webb Planned Giving Chair John Malone '71, and Webb Parent of Alumni Fund Chair Hal Granger P'14 (Hon.) for their continued leadership of Webb's volunteer fundraising committees. Webb Parent Annual Fund Co-Chairs Jen '91 and Tom '89 Waters P'20 and Jeanine and Paul Becker P'21, P'22 worked together to lead the strong parent fundraising effort this year. Jen and Tom's daughter Linda has now graduated. We thank them for their highly effective leadership over the past four years and are grateful to the Beckers for continuing to serve in the role as co-chairs this year. Tom has graciously agreed to co-chair the Parent of Alumni Fund committee with Hal this year. We all appreciate the work of each of the class agents, parents, alumni, and friends of Webb who have donated their time and energy to personally contact Webb's donors and prospects.

Our volunteers continue to be ably and enthusiastically supported by Webb's Development Office staff. Under Anthony Zic's leadership, Joe Cascio, Shanna Hamilton, Gailmarie Sujecki (Hon.), and Alicia Edgar have worked together, and with their Webb colleagues and the Development Committee, to continuously enhance and expand the fundraising reach of the institution.

These have been challenging times, yet the financial support provided by Webb alumni, parents past and present, friends, and foundations has been extraordinary. We do not take your support for granted, but rather value your confidence and strive to be exemplary stewards of the donations you have entrusted to Webb. Be well and thank you for your continued support of Webb.

BILL BLANTON WAY

by Anthony R. Zic,
Director of Development

William “Bill” Blanton, Jr., P.E. '71 was quite the character, as I learned from his daughter, Mrs. Catherine Blanton Harrison, and others who remember him lovingly. He has been described as quiet but social, a great storyteller, funny, and at times intimidating because of his intellect.

Bill was also a prankster. The neighboring Woolworth estate in Glen Cove became the Grace Downs Air Career School, an “academy for young women who like fine adventure and travel plus a salary.” At the time, Bill was courting one of the young women from the Grace Downs Air Career School, as did a number of Webbies. As Webb Social Chair in charge of all of Webb’s mixers, he always found a way to incorporate the Grace Downs students. On one Halloween night, Bill adeptly made it nearly impossible for boarding students to leave on All Saints Day to go to church.

Perhaps inspired by his father, William J. Blanton, Sr., an architectural engineer, Bill had a strong love of the sea and sailing, a passion he pursued throughout his adult life. He went to the Collegiate School in Richmond, a private prep school. Bill learned of Webb through his prep school classmates. After applying to Webb, Bill received a thin envelope that he decided he would never open. He was convinced that the thin envelope meant he had received a rejection letter. One day, Bill's prep school friends asked what a rejection letter looked like. Bill sheepishly held up the envelope from Webb. His friends opened the letter and began to read it aloud. To Bill's surprise, it was an acceptance letter. The joke was on the prankster this time, he had gotten in. Then Webb president, Admiral Brockett, made it known to Bill that his was a "risky acceptance," and that he should not take his admission to Webb for granted. Bill took this to heart. He applied his passion for academics and graduated from Webb with pride.

After graduation from Webb in 1971, Bill joined the United States Coast Guard and served until 1976. He went on to receive his Master of Science degree in mechanical engineering from George Washington University in 1976, and his Juris Doctorate from George Mason University School of Law in 1996, where he served as director of the legal research and writing program from 1997-2001. He was a licensed professional engineer and became the Founder and President of Chesapeake Materials, Inc.

Bill became a member of Webb's Board of Trustees in 2007, where he was joined by then Trustee and current Webb President Keith Michel '73, who recounts, "Bill was an extraordinary person and he served on Webb's board with distinction. To recognize Bill's generosity and in light of his passion for sailing, the sea and the

Sailing Team, taken from the 1971 Binnacle

Yacht Club Executive Board, taken from the 1971 Binnacle commitment he demonstrated to Webb's waterfront project as Trustee, I am honored to announce that the path along Webb's waterfront will be known as Bill Blanton Way."

According to his daughter, "Dad was a big believer in education, and really enjoyed his time teaching at Mason.

He instilled his passion for education in me and my four siblings. He was so proud of his Webb experience. He gave back to all the schools he attended, but Webb was the only school who benefited from his estate."

Webb is grateful to the Blanton family for their support of Webb!

GIVING BACK TO WEBB:

AN INTERVIEW WITH WEBB ALUMNI ASSOCIATION PRESIDENT, VICKY DLUGOKECKI '88

by Anthony R. Zic, Director of Development

Victoria “Vicky” Dlugokecki '88 was voted in as President of the Webb Alumni Association (WAA) on May 16, 2020. I recently caught up with Vicky on her thoughts about giving back to Webb:

Q: Was philanthropy emphasized during your time as a Webb student? Were you encouraged by the administration, faculty, or trustees to engage in this context?

I don't remember philanthropy or the support of the Webb Alumni Fund (WAF) being emphasized while I was a student in the mid-1980s. The Heritage Society didn't exist and neither did the Webb Every Year (WebbEY) Program. I also don't remember anyone receiving scholarships. I'm pretty sure that Professor Larry Ward, Webb Class of PG'51, was the WAF Chairman at that time—as a student and a recent graduate, I really don't remember a time when Larry Ward wasn't the WAF Chairman. I remember thinking that the Trustees must have been big donors...names like Charles Visconti '55, “Pete” Bethge '53, GP'05, and “Joe” Cuneo '57. And then there was J. J. Henry '35 and Lester Rosenblatt (Hon.), both with endowed chairs associated with their names... All titans in the marine industry in my mind! I figured that when I became a titan, I would be in a position to give back to Webb like they did.

Q: Why do you give back financially to Webb? Why do you give your time?

I definitely don't put myself in the same giving category as the names I just mentioned, but I've always recognized that the benefit of a full-tuition scholarship is something that should be given back to the school. And I was perfectly okay knowing that I could achieve this through relatively small contributions during my lifetime.

I've been generous with my time as far back as I can remember. While one might not call it volunteering, I had quite a few leadership roles as a teenager, including editor of my high school newspaper, drum majorette of my high school marching band, and captain of the swim team. At Webb, I was the Business Manager of the Webb Binnacle for three years, selling advertisements to support the printing of the publication. That's when I first met Ed Primeggia, director of Webb's Development Office during my time at Webb, who encouraged giving back to the school. In my early years in New York City, I volunteered as member of the NY Metropolitan Section of SNAME. I've rarely missed a SNAME Annual Meeting, a Webb Alumni Banquet, or a Webb Homecoming event. I volunteered to be on the WAA Executive Committee, way back in 2010, for the Secretary / Treasurer position, and I stayed on as Treasurer for many years, before finally deciding to turn that over and move up in the WAA leadership roles, culminating in my becoming WAA President this last May. My Mom always tells me that time is money, and that I volunteer too much, but I guess it's just in my blood. I've always been a “joiner,” and I guess I'll always be one. Participating as part of a community gives me satisfaction.

Q: How will your role as Webb Alumni Association President impact alumni giving?

When I was first elected as WAA President, someone asked me if I had a “mission” or a “theme” for my presidency. After I gave it some thought, I decided that I wanted my tenure to be associated with the word “Community.” With many of us still hunkered down because of the COVID-19 pandemic and with the social unrest in the U.S., this is really an opportunity for the Webb family to shine. While we were at Webb, many of us built life-long friendships with classmates, and we have grown many more close alumni connections throughout our careers. I will try to use these connections to facilitate a closer connection to the school and to influence financial support of Webb. As WAA President, I now participate on the Communications Committee of the Board of Trustees. I think that my role as WAA President and Trustee will have a positive impact on alumni giving.

Q: What inspired you to establish the Dlugokecki Family Scholarship fund?

Sure, I read the Webb News “Heritage Society Spotlights” and browsed through the “Webb Scholarship: Making Progress by Getting Closer to 1967” article in last year’s Annual Report, but it wasn’t until I had the opportunity to participate in the Board of Trustees’ Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Committee meetings that I realized that a number of very talented students don’t accept their offer to attend Webb because they received “better deals” from other colleges. We all know that Webb provides a full-tuition scholarship, but the cost of room, board, and fees exceeds $18,000 for first-year students. I came from a middle-class family. My brother Chris and I were the first sister and brother to graduate from Webb,

The Dlugokecki Family in 1992 at Chris' Webb graduation.

In the late 1980s

and we were both first-generation college students.

My dad was with the NYPD—a “beat cop,” not a high-ranking NYPD member like a sergeant or a detective. My mother was a bookkeeper for a factory in Long Island City. I was 12 when I got my first job as a Little League umpire for eight year-olds. We are a hard working family. Could our family afford the $3,000 to $4,000 room and board from 1980s Webb? Sure. But affording room and board in today’s economy seems a lot tougher. Plus, Webb is competing with all the top schools for the best students. And while William H. Webb’s endowment and the generous support of the Webb family have been able to sustain the full-tuition scholarship model for more than 130 years, our ability to recruit the best students is sometimes deterred when students have significant financial need.

President Michel '73 told me about a recent graduate who set up a room and board scholarship fund for leadership students with demonstrated financial need. I thought this was a great story, but the young grad is humble and didn’t want to publicize his good deed. So if a recent grad can do it, why can’t I? I called Anthony Zic, and after we exchanged a couple of emails on setting up the fund, Webb will award the Dlugokecki Family Scholarship! I won’t be as humble as our young grad, and I will try to inspire others by sharing the news in this Annual Report. This scholarship will provide room and board stipends for students with a demonstrated financial need. Preference will be given to students who enhance diversity at Webb through support of students from underrepresented backgrounds, including women, first-generation college students, and/or students from minority backgrounds. While funding this scholarship, I also plan to continue to make unrestricted gifts to the Webb Annual Fund—these gifts have and will continue to be critical to Webb’s long-term sustainability, including full-tuition scholarships.

Q: If you knew individuals who had the means to give and they were philanthropic but unfamiliar with Webb, what might you say or do to try and convince them that Webb should be the beneficiary of their support?

I don’t think anyone will ever convince me otherwise—Webb is a college like no other. If I met someone who I thought was in a position to make a gift to Webb, I would do my best to summarize my Webb experience. Where else can a student expect to spend almost every waking moment with 27 of his or her classmates and have your professors come to your assigned classroom? Where does a gong ring to summon you to lunch and dinner? What school does a better job blending a first-class theoretical education with two months of practical industry experience each year, while working toward a dual Bachelors in Science? Where else can you go to school where 100% of your classmates have one or more job offers before graduation, year after year? Where else do you become part of a family from your first day of Freshman Orientation through the rest of your life?

I donate to many worthy organizations—cancer research, childhood illnesses, veterans, our military, and first responders—but none of that is as satisfying as what I give back to Webb!

REMEMBERING PROFESSOR JENS HOLM: INSPIRING WEBB'S NEWEST COMMENCEMENT AWARD

by Anthony R. Zic, Director of Development

George A. Gilmore, Webb Class of 1957, had a remarkable and unique journey—before, during, and after his time at Webb.

After graduating from Webb, George joined Dravo Corporation working in barge, towboat, and tug design. He then attended Navy Officer Candidate School where he was Battalion Commander and spent two years as Ship Superintendent in the Submarine Repair Division of Pearl Harbor Naval Shipyard. Subsequently, he was Damage Control Assistant aboard reserve training vessel DD658 in the Pacific for two years.

George attended Harvard Business School, graduating in 1964 with a master's degree in Business Administration. He spent time with Marine Transport Lines and was involved with ship acquisitions, and then joined United Fruit Company, analyzing banana shipping systems. Then followed a stint with Ocean Science and Engineering, where he developed buoys for weapons testing and undersea cable marking at sea; and at Ocean Mining, he pursued lease acquisitions for tin mining in Indonesia.

In 1970, George obtained his professional engineer's license and established a consulting practice in Washington, DC. He directed marine oil spill control studies for the American Petroleum Institute and undertook hull design of dredges and tenders for dredging contractors. In 1975, he joined Energy Transportation Corporation as Administrative Vice President for the construction and operation of eight U.S. flag LNG vessels, and a tug/barge ammonia carrier. In 1985, George returned to Brunswick, Maine, to oversee his family's business, Senter's Department Store. After closing the store in 1992, this property continues to be managed as a leased space. George has also managed several other commercial properties in Maine. He and his wife Martha have three children and seven grandchildren.

While George's professional and educational experiences post Webb are impressive, he would argue his time at Webb had a few bumps on the road. George loved the sea, sailing, and all things nautical. It was in his DNA. His great grandfather sailed around the world as the Captain of Solitaire. He and his wife lived aboard the vessel, and since they did not have children of their own, they decided to adopt a young girl from Boston. Emma, George's grandmother, sailed with her adopted parents until the age of 14, at which time the Solitaire was shipwrecked, putting an end to the family's world-wide sailing journey.

George had been accepted to other prestigious programs and institutions, including the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT), which in partnership with Bowdoin and Williams offered a 3+2 program culminating in a Bachelor of Arts and a Bachelor of Science in Engineering. He read about Webb Institute of Naval Architecture in the Saturday Evening Post's December 10th issue in 1949. Once he received his acceptance to Webb, George's mother made his college selection quite simple, as he remembers her saying sternly: "You're not passing up the full-tuition scholarship." Although not a Webb graduate, George's mother was no less practical or direct.

While at Webb, George enjoyed basically everything. He played tennis, basketball, sailed, played the clarinet, and sang, among other extracurriculars. "I liked doing it all, maybe a bit too much," said George. His unquenchable thirst to conquer it all left too little time for Webb studies, and he would be dismissed academically for failing Marine Engineering (taught by Professor Jens Holm, a subject he loved), and Fluid Mechanics (which he loved less) in his junior year.

This is where George's story, and inspiration to memorialize Professor Holm, begins. Admiral Haeberle, then Webb President, decided he would accept George back if he passed proficiency exams, under the condition that he would not engage in any extracurricular activities. Second chances at Webb were even less common then than they are now, so this would be a tough road to travel. To play it safe, George called MIT and began to line up "a plan B," just in case.

Professor Jens Holm, Webb graduate of 1941, would no longer teach Marine Engineering the following semester at Webb, and he was concerned about George's predicament. He was teaching at Columbia University at the time, so he invited George to come into Manhattan once a week for tutoring sessions. Each week, these two had a standing meeting at a cafeteria-style restaurant. This made the dining portion of their meeting efficient so that they could focus on the primary task at hand. George would receive weekly homework assignments which Professor Holm would scrutinize in great detail. George remembers Professor Holm as a friendly man who did not particularly care for small talk or gossip.

Professor Holm served as a naval constructor at Mare Island Naval Shipyard and in the South Pacific before discharge in 1946 with the rank of Lieutenant Commander. After a brief period with the New York Shipbuilding Corp., he was invited to join the faculty of Webb as Professor of Marine Engineering, a position he held until his retirement in 1980. His devotion to his students and their education were recognized by naming him Professor Emeritus of Marine Engineering in 1983. He was involved with the marine industry as a consultant and a contributor of technical literature. His clients included machinery manufacturers, ship owners such as the Onassis Group, and naval architects such as the J. J. Henry Co. Professor Holm's technical literature contributions included SNAME Technical & Research Bulletins and papers, membership on the Control Committee, and authorship of the chapter on thermodynamics and heat engineering of SNAME's 1971 reference text Marine Engineering. His honors include designation as an Honorary Member of SNAME, Webb Alumni William Selkirk Owen Award recipient in 1975, and SNAME's David W. Taylor Medal recipient in 1983.

At the conclusion of the summer, George passed his proficiency exam and he gladly accepted his invitation to rejoin Webb. He was happy to spend a year in a triple occupancy dormitory room, and his wonderful memories at Webb resumed.

George has been a staunch supporter of Webb since his graduation in 1957. As he was reviewing the list of Webb's Commencement Awards, George noticed that this list did not include an award solely dedicated to excellence in Marine Engineering. To honor Professor Holm, he funded a permanently restricted endowment to establish the Jens T. Holm '41 Memorial Commencement Award. Beginning in 2020 and every year thereafter, Webb will make an award to a graduating senior who demonstrated outstanding achievement in Marine Engineering.

"Webb is fortunate to have George and Martha as part of the Webb family. Their efforts to establish this Commencement Award is a fitting tribute to Professor Holm, and another example of their wonderful giving spirit," said President Michel '73.

Webb is grateful for the support of George '57 and Martha Gilmore!

SUSTAINING A WEBB CURRICULUM THROUGH COVID-19

MATTHEW R. WERNER '95, PG'97
Dean & ABS Chair of Naval Architecture & Marine Engineering

There is a saying that sometimes it's better to be lucky than good.

That is what sprang into my mind as I walked into the Sophomore Design Studio for my first lecture of the fall 2020 semester. It was already the third week of the semester, as we had just completed two weeks of remote instruction. Delaying in-person instruction allowed us to accommodate out-of-state students whom New York State required to quarantine for two weeks. We also administered COVID-19 tests to the entire student body, and all students tested negative. From the faculty's perspective, we started the semester where we ended the last. For the upperclassmen on campus, returning to Webb was the first step toward a return to normalcy.

In the Work Studio, the twenty-six sophomores were seated at their individual workstations, wearing face masks, and separated by six feet in all directions. The large interactive flat-panel monitor was located at the front of the room along with an instructor's podium, placed six feet from the nearest student desk. The floor-to-ceiling white boards at the front of the room were newly cleaned. The Sound-facing windows were open, as was the door leading out to the external staircase. If you were asked to design a classroom to accommodate COVID-19 requirements, Webb's Design Studio may well be the blueprint. But COVID-19 did not dictate the original design of this space; the Design Studios were sized to accommodate up to twenty-eight design stations, a small seating area, and space at the front of the room where the course instructor could manage a design lab. It turns out that the footprint needed for the original plan was just large enough to support a socially-distanced class of twenty-eight students and an instructor. Luck was on our side as we strived to return to in-person instruction. At the time, I hoped that this was a sign of things to come. When speaking to the faculty and students at the beginning of the semester, I noted that the key to this semester's success would be flexibility. We had no idea what additional requirements would stem from COVID-19, but if we remained flexible, the Webb educational experience would continue as students and faculty worked together. Our flexibility resulted in an unprecedented ability to deliver the Webb curriculum with only 50% in-person instruction, and all students are living and learning on campus. All classes including labs, both in-person and remote, are provided synchronously and continue without interruption. Technology continues to be crucial to the daily delivery and management of the educational program. The lessons we learned in the spring are serving us well in the fall, and we continue to build upon what we have learned. Necessity truly is the mother of invention.

As we have passed the halfway point of the fall semester, the next challenge before us is the upcoming Winter Work period. The decision has been made to go forward with this year's Winter Work program although COVID-19 has limited internship opportunities. We believe that this program is so valuable and formative for our students that we want to make sure our seniors can take part in their fourth internship experience. For those students whom we cannot place this winter, we intend to make this up in the summer of 2021 so that we remain on schedule.

With continued luck, teamwork, and flexibility, I am confident that the fall semester will finish successfully, and that we will be prepared for whatever the world throws at us when spring classes begin on March 1, 2021. Two things are for certain, the learning will continue, and Zoom is here to stay. Be well and stay safe.

Plenty of space in the new Couch Academic Center classrooms.

A MESSAGE FROM
THE CHAIRMAN OF THE WEBB ALUMNI FUND

SOLID PERFORMANCE IN THE MIDST OF CHANGE AND UNCERTAINTY!

JAKE M. NEUMAN '93
Chairman of the Webb Alumni Fund

At first glance, the 2019-20 Webb Alumni Fund (WAF) total raised of $2,027,089 might seem underwhelming with the backdrop of the successive record-breaking WAF years. But when you consider just how different this giving year was from most, reaching the $2 million plateau was a difficult task, one that could only be accomplished through your generous gifts during these uncertain times. When we planned for this WAF year, we knew all too well that you have been asked to stretch your giving capacity during the six-year Campaign for Webb effort. Then unexpectedly, in the last quarter of the giving year, COVID-19 disrupted our lives.

Most Webb students learned remotely during the spring semester. Many alumni experienced professional hardships. Our Spring Phon-a-thon was replaced by Webb Cares—phone outreach conducted by Webb students to ensure everyone's well-being—a great display of the Webb family values. In spite of all of the challenges, alumni, led by class agents, persevered and contributed over $2 million of much-needed support for Webb. This is only the fourth time in Webb's history that the WAF has surpassed $2 million, and for added context, the WAF secured $1.3 million in the first year before the Campaign for Webb (2013-14). In short, I am proud of what my fellow alumni have accomplished, but I would not be doing my job unless I shared with you that I think we can do even better next year! THANK YOU to all who continue to make the WAF a pillar of Webb's financial support.

Together, we achieved a nation-leading undergraduate participation rate of 70.4% and 18 Webb classes boasted an amazing 100% participation rate. Our future is bright, too, as the most recent 15 graduating classes combined for an average participation rate of 86%.

Participation % (All Members of the Webb Alumni Association)	68.0%	69.4%
Average Gift	$2,553	$3,190
Median Gift	$750	$720

I look forward to a great WAF 2020-2021 as we strive to raise $2,100,000 and secure the participation of 75% of undergraduates.

A huge thanks to the Class Agents, Group Leaders, and the Development Office for all their time and efforts for the Webb Alumni Fund. The success of the WAF truly is a team effort! Thank you! A special thanks to Paul Hayes '54 who is handing over Class Agent title to Joe Signorelli '54 and welcome to our newest class agent, Reneé Tremblay '20!

You can have a big impact on the future of our fundraising success and Webb's financial well-being by:

- Maximizing your current giving levels – The WAF average gift is $2,553 and the median gift is $750. Maybe these are goals you can strive for or comfortably exceed, depending on your circumstances.
- Giving as early in the giving year as possible – This allows everyone involved in this effort to spend more time cultivating alumni that either do not give regularly or have not yet given at all.
- Serving as an ambassador for the WAF and Webb – Help your fellow class agents by encouraging classmates to maximize their giving and to give as early in the giving year as possible. Sharing your giving strategies (monthly giving, gifts of stock, gifts leveraging donor advised funds, charitable distributions from your IRA, matching gifts, etc.) may inspire a new gift or help your peers achieve new giving levels!

A MESSAGE FROM THE PLANNED GIVING CHAIR

WEBB HERITAGE SOCIETY WELCOMES FIVE NEW MEMBERS

JOHN MALONE '71
Planned Giving Chair

The COVID-19 pandemic certainly made efforts to grow the Heritage Society more challenging in Webb's FY20 (July 1, 2019 - June 30, 2020). Because of the COVID-19 pandemic, many Webb family gatherings were cancelled, including Regional Events, Homecoming 2020, and the annual Heritage Society Reception and Dinner. Also, in-person meetings with prospective Heritage Society members could not be scheduled. And yet, five members of the Webb Family responded to our mail, email, and phone outreach and notified the Webb Development Office that they had taken the steps to include Webb Institute in their estate plans. We are pleased and proud to recognize them now: Vincent R. Commisso '18, Theresa L. Fielding '96, Robert K. Jenner '70, Mark F. Martecchini '79 (Trustee), and Thomas P. Tindale '10. Sadly, three Heritage Society members passed away during the same period: Professor Thomas H. Bond '45, Richard G. Eddy '55, and John J. Slager '49.

The Heritage Society has inched up to a new record high of 161 living members, including a broad cross-section of constituencies: 12 alumni trustees, four non-alumni trustees, 131 alumni (other than current trustees), six honorary alumni, one non-alumni faculty, and seven friends. Included in the foregoing categories are three parents of alumni, and three members of Webb staff and administration, further demonstrating the breadth of membership in the Heritage Society. Fifty-five Webb classes are represented in the Heritage Society, and we are pleased to recognize the top ten classes ranked by the number of Heritage Society members, and by percentage of the living members in the class, as follows:

Ranking by Number of Class Members in the Heritage Society

Rank	Class	Number in HS
1	1954	7
1	1955	7
1	1958	7
4	1962	6
4	1977	6
6	1957	5
6	1967	5
6	1970	5
6	1975	5
6	2008	5

Ranking by Percentage of Class Members
in the Heritage Society

Rank	Class	% in HS
1	1954	100%
2	1958	70%
3	1955	64%
4	1962	46%
5	1957	45%
6	1961	43%
7	1964	40%
8	1967	33%
8	1963	33%
8	1969	33%

Very encouraging during FY20 were indications from at least a dozen members of the Webb Family that they intend to join the Heritage Society in the near future, so the rankings on the left page may look quite different in next year's Annual Report! FYI, the rankings for all Webb classes are posted on Webb's website at: <https://www.webb.edu/hsranking>.

Realized planned gifts in FY20 (i.e., planned gifts that Webb received in FY20, regardless of when the planned gifts were established or pledged) amounted to $777,177. That total came from the estates of seven members of the Heritage Society, including a generous gift from the estate of William J. ("Bill") Blanton '71. Bill served on the Webb Board of Trustees and was instrumental in overseeing the rip-rap replacement of Webb's deteriorating sea wall along Long Island Sound. He passed away in January 2012, and his estate was settled recently, allowing the disbursement of his planned gift. In recognition of his service and contributions to Webb, the Board's Gift Acceptance Committee recommended, and the Board approved, naming Webb's waterfront path Bill Blanton Way (see page 7).

We eagerly look forward to seeing new and familiar faces at next year's Heritage Society Reception and Dinner at the President's House, scheduled on May 21, 2021. A record high attendance is likely, given that the Class of '70 (belatedly celebrating the 50th anniversary of their graduation from Webb) and the Class of '71 (celebrating their 50th anniversary) will be invited in their entirety. We hope there will be many Heritage Society members among them!

Table setting from the Heritage Society Dinner in 2019.

The COVID-19 pandemic makes us pause and reflect on the people, places, and experiences that are important in our lives. With that in mind, we will continue a vigorous effort to grow the Heritage Society because planned gifts are not only a way for alumni to "give back" (or "pay forward") the value of their Webb education, but they are the key for all constituencies of the Webb family to help secure the institution's financial future and perpetuate William H. Webb's legacy of providing a full-tuition scholarship for all Webb students. The Webb Heritage Society is certainly a very special group within the Webb family; its members emulate the generosity of our founder and help ensure Webb's inter-generational sustainability.

We hope to fill these seats at the next Heritage Society Reception in May 2021!

For more information on Webb's Heritage Society, including information on various planned gifts and how to become a member, please call our Director of Development, Anthony Zic at 516-759-2040 or email him at azic@webb.edu. All members receive a Heritage Society pin, a Young America drawing suitable for framing, recognition in the Lenfest Gallery, and an invitation to the annual Heritage Society Reception and Dinner.

HERITAGE SOCIETY | 2019-2020

Webb Institute is fortunate to have alumni and friends whose dedication to the institution has inspired them to leave a lasting legacy. There are members of the Heritage Society as young as members of the Class of 2018—so you see, it is never too early to consider Webb in your future plans. Legacy gifts are the cornerstone upon which Webb was built, and they will continue to play a vital role in Webb's finances. These thoughtful gifts provide Webb with the fiscal strength and security needed for future generations.

To learn more about planned giving visit our website, or contact Anthony R. Zic, Webb's Director of Development at 516-759-2040 or azic@webb.edu.

SCHOLARSHIPS, PROFESSORSHIPS & MORE...

by Anthony R. Zic, Director of Development

Webb Institute's unique financial model is predicated upon our ability to attract funds that support our students, faculty, and staff. Webb is the only full-tuition scholarship private undergraduate program of its kind in the country, and it is critical that we sustain this model for students who are academically and personally prepared for the Webb challenge.

From the start, Webb has relied upon its endowment, initially through funds provided by William H. Webb, and later through the generosity of alumni, family, and friends. The concept is as relevant today as it was in 1889, when William H. Webb established the original endowment. Every unrestricted contribution to Webb's Annual Fund helps ensure the inter-generational sustainability of Webb's full-tuition scholarship model. Beginning in 2017, Webb has also joined a list of only 70 colleges and universities that in addition to full-tuition scholarship support, provide for the full demonstrated financial need of all students, inclusive of room and board costs.

Webb is also supported by a variety of non-endowed, restricted gifts that enhance the Webb student experience through the arts, clubs, and much more.

We thank each and every member of the Webb family for your support!

A MESSAGE FROM
THE PARENT OF ALUMNI FUND CO-CHAIRS

WEBB FAMILY TRADITION

HAL & ALISON GRANGER P'14 (HON.)
Co-Chairs

Continuing recent tradition, the highlight of the Parents of Alumni social calendar was an invitation to join President Michel for breakfast at the President's House on Sunday of Family Weekend, followed by the brilliant Freshman Boat Race. President Michel's annual invitation underscores the solidarity of the Webb community, extending even to parents whose Webb students have become Webb alumni. Embracing William Webb's culture of philanthropy, 126 Webb parents of alumni donated over $126,000 during the 2019-2020 academic year. Among the generous parents of alumni families, 82 earned active WebbEY (Webb Every Year) status by supporting Webb for at least five consecutive years. Thank you!

For the upcoming year, the Parent of Alumni Fund welcomes Co-Chairs Jen '91 and Tom '89 Waters, P'20, who recently served as Co-Chairs of the Parent Annual Fund. We look forward to Tom's and Jen's contributions, and we thank Webb's parents of alumni for their continuing generosity!

WEBB FAMILIES ARE AMAZING

JEANINE AND PAUL BECKER, P'21, P'22
Co-Chairs of the Webb Parent Annual Fund

Webbies have always been amazingly sharp, strong, and resilient, rising time and again to succeed in the face of every challenge put before them. They have always been expected to succeed and have figured out how to do just that. This year provided insight as to where some of those special qualities may come from—Webbie families have shown that they possess those same characteristics.

In the summer of 2019, the Webb Parent Annual Fund started off on an exciting note. Many of the parent families returned as committee members (one family returned for a 4th year!), a great group of freshman families volunteered as new members, and the energy infused by incoming Co-Chairs Jeanine and Paul Becker, P'21, P'22 were a great start to the year. However, a global pandemic arrived in the spring, the world changed seemingly overnight, and we all held our collective breaths.

Yet, as the world seemed to be shutting down around us, Webb parent families neither gave up nor gave in. In the face of COVID-19, parents stepped up once again. Despite the risk and uncertainty, and with most students returning home to transition to distance learning, Webb parent families continued to give generously and gifted back tens of thousands of dollars in room and board refunds. In the end, 70% of Webb parents made contributions (down from 77%), contributing an impressive $179,164 (up from $126,809 last year). When we include the support of grandparents of current students, $185,044 was contributed to Webb through the 2019-20 Parent Annual Fund. Thank you to each and every family that participated!

While these results clearly show the strength and support of the parent community, we should also highlight the gifts that are not reflected in the statistics on page 38. These gifts were made by parents who opened their homes to host newly displaced Webbies in addition to their own, feeding and housing them for the entire spring semester and allowing them to maintain some degree of the collaborative learning experience that makes Webb so special. While these generous gifts—and we all know what it costs to feed and house young adults—are not reflected in the Parent Annual Fund statistics for the 2019-2020 Fund year, they exemplify William H. Webb's vision and giving spirit.

While we all continue to adapt to the COVID-19 landscape and cope with the associated challenges, this past year has buoyed our spirits that the Parent Annual Fund will remain a vibrant asset to the Webb community. Even as the Waters P'20 transition away from the Parent Annual Fund and the Beckers P'21, P'22 take the full reins, we are confident that with their leadership, the efforts of the parents who make up the Parent Annual Fund Committee, and the parents and grandparents who donate, the 2020-2021 Parent Annual Fund will have another amazing year.

GEORGE MOURAVIEFF P'09, P'11, P'16
Webb Parents Association Chair

Webb's administration, faculty, and staff have addressed this most challenging and difficult year with a level-headed and pragmatic approach. It would be an understatement to say that many parents, as well as students, had elevated concerns and considerable anxiety. The spring of 2020 imposed restrictions that limited options on what course of action needed to be taken by all. From the parents' perspective, the students will always be our children, but they are also young adults who will face complex situations and related setbacks that they will need to navigate.

The question many parents posed was how Webb would handle staying open in the fall 2020 semester.

Webb addressed this question with a clear and well-communicated plan, established within the New York State COVID-19 guidelines. During my outreach calls to the parents of incoming freshmen in the summer of 2020, it was clear that everyone was well-informed and receptive to what was required to start the fall semester. All parents understood that every effort was being made to make this work, despite the challenges that we were all facing. It is with the utmost respect and appreciation that we should be grateful to the administration, staff, and faculty for their dedication. By keeping a steady course, their efforts enabled Webb students to have the best experience possible, even in these trying times.

WEBB EVERY YEAR (WebbEY) PROGRAM | 2019-2020

The Webb Every Year Program (WebbEY) was established during the 2006-2007 Annual Fund. Initially, this program was created to acknowledge alumni donors for their consecutive years of giving. Eventually, it was extended to include other members within our community, and it now recognizes family and friends. The WebbEY program was created strictly to recognize our donors' consistency of support, regardless of gift amount.

In order to attain the status of becoming a WebbEY, a donor has to contribute to the Annual Fund for a minimum of five consecutive years. To show appreciation to our consecutive giving donors, Webb Institute now mails a pin to those in the five, 25, and 50-year consecutive giving categories.

Consecutive giving allows Webb to plan for the future with assurance and to continue to be recognized as the premier college of naval architecture and marine engineering. We wish to thank the following donors for their loyalty and generosity and for attaining the distinct honor of achieving WebbEY status this year.

THE FOLLOWING LIST CONSTITUTES ONLY THE NEWEST WEBBEY MEMBERS IN EACH CATEGORY.

A MESSAGE FROM
THE VICE CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES

FINANCE & INVESTMENTS FY2020

JON J. LABERGE '76

*Vice Chairman, Board of Trustees
Chairman, Finance Committee*

In this first fiscal year following the completion of the six-year Campaign for Webb, fundraising revenues remained strong and exceeded budgetary projections. Thanks to all of you who contributed to this strong performance! Elsewhere, Webb's income statement for FY2020 was significantly affected by the pandemic. In compliance with directives from the Governor of the State of New York, the majority of students were sent home in March, and their room and board charges for the remainder of the semester were reimbursed. As we had fewer students on campus, expenses related primarily to reduced culinary and janitorial services declined, partially offsetting the loss of room and board revenues. As shown on the income statement presented in Table 1, Webb sustained a loss of $4.2 million in FY2020. This loss does not reflect $1.1 million in grants and loan forgiveness that Webb has subsequently received under the CARES Act. Instead, this amount will be reflected as extraordinary revenue during FY2021.

Endowment investment losses as of June 30, 2020, of $1.4 million reflect the sharp market drop in February and March. The endowment regained some of the losses it sustained at the low point of the market and continues to show positive returns in early FY2021. Webb's endowment ended the fiscal year with a net loss of 2.1 percent. On June 30, 2020, the trailing ten-year average annual returns slightly exceeded 7.0 percent. However, the overall endowment returns for FY2020 are disappointing, and the Webb Investment Committee has been hard at work evaluating our asset allocation and manager performance.

In 2017, Webb initiated a much needed $21 million infrastructure enhancement program. The Couch

Academic Center is complete, and it has been in use since the spring semester. Many of the other projects, including the renovation of the Stevenson Taylor Hall (STH) east side bathrooms, new septic systems, a new water main, and upgrades to the computer network, are now complete. Other projects including repurposing of the STH classrooms to dormitory rooms, installation of an ADA compliant elevator, and fitting of a sprinkler system throughout STH are underway and will be completed before commencement of the spring 2021 semester. We also anticipate completion of the renovation of the STH west-wing bathrooms by the spring semester. These projects are supported by restricted funds received during the Campaign and financing of approximately $8 million. By collateralizing the financing with selected investments from our portfolio, we have access to attractive borrowing rates (currently 1.25%). The Board has approved a policy statement to pay all accrued interest on a quarterly basis, and the principal over 30 years, with consideration given to accelerating the repayment schedule as Campaign pledges are received.

The draw on the endowment is used to support operations and routine capital projects. Webb's Board of Trustees has established a target draw rate of 4.25% per annum. Over the last 10 years, the draw rate excluding major gifts (gifts from individuals whose cumulative unrestricted annual giving is $100,000 or greater) has declined from a range of 7.5% - 8% to the FY20 value of 5.1%. We still have work to do to bring the actual draw rate down to the target rate, but we are making steady progress. When major unrestricted gifts are included in revenues, the draw rate in recent years has been under the 4.25% target rate.

Each year the Finance Committee of the Board carries out a long-term financial assessment of Webb's finances. Based on the Committee's best estimates for factors such as market return, inflation, and fundraising growth, the Committee projects that the draw rate will remain flat over the next 10 years. The Committee also projects that the endowment will grow at a very modest rate as we pay down the debt assumed to finance our infrastructure enhancements, and await the receipt of planned gifts included as soft pledges during the recent Campaign.

The Board of Trustees and the Administration are committed to Webb's long-term financial health and the sustainment of our full-tuition scholarship model. Over the prior seven years, we have kept increases in expenses under the CPI while achieving robust growth in fundraising revenues. Key factors to a successful financial future remain the same: continue the growth of Webb's Annual Fund in excess of inflation, limit increases in budgeted expenses to the rate of inflation, expand Heritage Society membership and work purposefully with existing Heritage members on their intentions regarding planned giving, and, pursue other sources of funding from outside of the Webb family and/or from new revenue sources.

MATCHING GIFT ORGANIZATIONS | 2019-2020

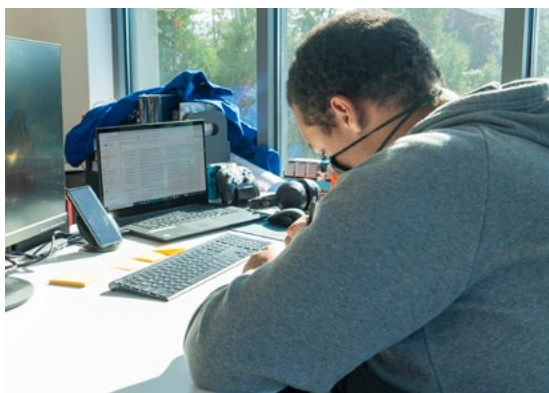

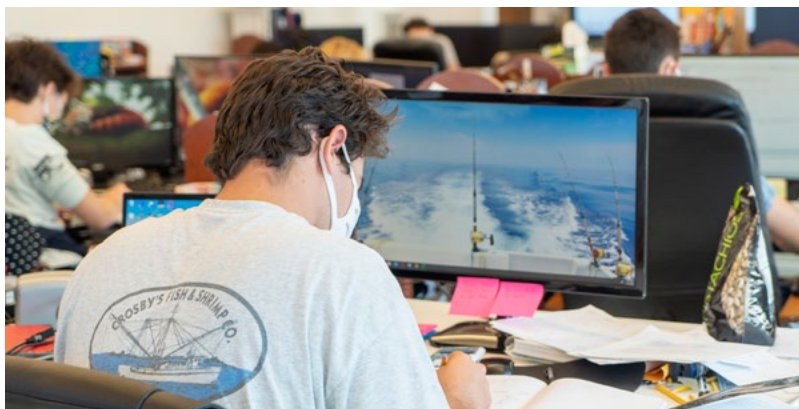

We are grateful to the organizations that so generously match the contributions of Webb donors, and to the Webb family for taking the steps necessary to maximize the impact of their contributions through matching gifts.

Such gifts accounted for approximately 14% of annual giving in 2019-20, so please be sure to check with your employer to find out whether your contribution is eligible for a matching contribution.

Every gift counts! If you have questions, please call our Development Office at 516-759-2040.
