Webb Institute:

- Provides a rigorous education in the principles of engineering and the fundamentals of naval architecture, marine engineering and related marine technologies;
- Develops skills that will enable graduates to become leaders in, and make significant contributions to, their chosen profession and the wider community;
- Instills in graduates the highest ethical standards and sense of professionalism;
- Cultivates curiosity in the arts, sciences and humanities, and provides the background and encouragement necessary to support lifelong learning; and
- Perpetuates the values of William H. Webb.

OUR MISSION: To inspire and educate tomorrow's leaders in an extraordinary learning community focused on engineering and design in the marine field.

Message from the President:

ON BOARD AND AT THE HELM

Mark Martecchini '79, P'09
President

Late afternoon sun filters through the trees and narrow windowpanes into the President's Office, only to be swallowed up by the dark paneling installed by Herbert Lee Pratt more than one hundred years ago. I feel privileged to sit in the room once occupied by Pratt and by the many innovative presidents who, since 1947, have transformed Webb into what it is today.

William H. Webb peers down from the wall opposite my desk, making a silent appearance on all my Zoom meetings. I know it's only his portrait, but as the old steam pipes clank unexpectedly as night descends, I imagine he's making the rounds, checking to see whether the new guy has his eye on the ball. He surely listens closely to our discussions on the upcoming transformation to new sustainable fuels. As an engineering innovator, he would not be shy to voice his opinion on the pros and cons of ammonia, hydrogen, biofuels, batteries, sails, or fuel cells.

Every Webb student since 1947 has passed through this room; their memories run the gamut from nervousness (admissions interview!) to appreciation (career guidance or problems hashed out) to disappointment (after "corrective action"). While not all visits will be fondly remembered, we hope they are seen as a positive learning experience.

Recruiting, selecting, and retaining our students is key to our success. We start with the best and brightest in academics and leadership potential, challenge them with problem-solving coursework, hands-on in-the-field experience, and self-governance, and watch them grow into industry leaders and engaged alumni. Our goal is not to fill an empty container; our goal is to provide the spark that lights the fire of curiosity, inspiration, and lifelong learning.

Early Decision (ED) admissions are off to a great start, with 40% of ED candidates for the Class of 2027 expected to make the cut. Their energy and enthusiasm are infectious; I'm transported back 48 years when I sat on the other side of the table in this room.

Students are happy to have returned to a normal way of life after COVID. We do face several infrastructure challenges; the most vexing is the new fire sprinkler system in Stevenson Taylor Hall (STH), which has not yet been approved due to low water flow at the end of Crescent Beach Road. This means we're unable to use the 22 new beds created by retrofitting the old classrooms to dormitory rooms. Discussions with the Nassau County Fire Marshal continue while backup technical plans are being developed.

The approved conversion of student dormitory rooms above the Robinson Model Basin into three faculty apartments—their original use when Robinson was first built in 1947—is on hold until we sort out the fire sprinkler issue. Waterproofing (brick repointing and sealing) of the large east wall of STH and some chimneys is nearing completion. Technical experts are investigating the structural problems with our maintenance garage with its historic Guastavino tile archway ceiling.

Our students' Winter Work placements have also returned to normal after two COVID-challenged winters. For the first time, all Webb sophomores have taken a one-week International Maritime Organization basic training course covering personal survival techniques, fire prevention and firefighting, first aid, personal safety, and social responsibility. Shipping companies now require this course for anyone working aboard their ships. Sophomores now have sufficient seagoing berths from which to choose. We are seeing increased demand for Webb graduates with more companies and defense-related organizations making the trek to Glen Cove to talk about career opportunities.

We are moving forward with making “innovation” a realized experience for every Webb student. The opening of the Couch Innovation Lab is part of that; much more is coming. In the maritime sector, the drive to sustainability by decarbonizing ship propulsion is moving forward at full speed. Ship designs will change radically, depending on the fuel of the future; production and supply chains for either green (no carbon emitted using wind/solar) or blue (employing carbon capture during production) fuels need to be built from scratch. Next semester, we will introduce students to expert external speakers and then build sustainability modules into all aspects of our curriculum.

One year ago, we reported that the endowment had grown from $64 to just over $80 million. The bear market witnessed over the last year has unfortunately reversed that growth; see the Finance and Investments article on pages 38-39 for more detail. We must spend prudently and step up our many efforts to augment our endowment and achieve a sustainable draw rate.

I am positive one thing will not change. Our alumni strongly believe in Webb’s mission; our alumni giving rate of over 70% is the envy of other colleges. Heritage Society commitments, such as the one made by William duBarry Thomas ‘51 (see details on pages 9-10), are only one example of extraordinary generosity from within the Webb family. With annual fundraising and unrestricted major gifts covering over 40% of our expenses for the last four years, your continued support is critical to achieving our goals. I thank you all for what you have given and continue to give and wish you the best for the holiday season!

Message from the Chair of the Board:

PASSING THE TORCH

Bruce S. Rosenblatt (Hon.)
Chair of the Board

As I complete my sixth year as Chair of the Board, I am grateful for the progress made possible by the hard work, dedication, and generosity of the Webb family. As in the past, the administration, faculty, staff, students, fellow trustees, alumni, and friends are the reasons that Webb continues to graduate highly capable and well-respected young men and women, as evidenced by the continued industry demand for Webb graduates. Your support of Webb is greatly appreciated!

Webb Institute has an outstanding Board of Trustees. Despite losing Wombi Rose '09, President of lovepop, Inc., Dr. Rod MacKinnon, Professor at the Rockefeller University, and Vicky Dlugokecki '88, Webb's former President of the Alumni Association, I am excited that John Malone '71 is returning to the Board after a one-year hiatus and that Joe Cuneo '57 has been elected as Trustee Emeritus, an honor only five other members of the Webb family carry with distinction. Finally, Ted Dickenson '92, Webb's President of the Alumni Association, is the newest addition to an already strong team of board members. I am confident that this group will serve Webb with passion and that their work will be both effective and efficient, propelling Webb into a bright future.

2021-22 marked the final year of Keith Michel's tenure as Webb's President. It is still hard to believe how quickly the nine years passed. The accomplishments Webb realized during Keith's tenure were many: he drove Webb's most successful fundraising campaign ever; architected the inspirational Couch Academic Center; and reimagined Stevenson Taylor Hall by retrofitting the old classrooms as dormitory rooms. Webb is in a much better place today because of Keith and Peggy's tireless devotion and dedication.

For eight months the Search Committee focused on finding the best candidate we could to replace President Michel, and we're confident we succeeded. To help us in that endeavor, we engaged the services of an outstanding search firm and adapted an inclusive process drawing input from faculty, staff, and students.

In the fall of 2021, we announced that our new President would be Mark Martecchini, '79, and we couldn't have asked for a better person to lead Webb for the next several years. Mark brings to the job the combination of a skilled leader of an international shipping company, a seasoned business manager, and an intimate knowledge of Webb as an alumnus, parent of a member of Webb's Class of 2009, and long-standing member of Webb's Board of Trustees. Together with his wife, Laurie, they take the torch, and it could not be in better hands.

Message from the Development Committee Chair:

THANK YOU FOR YOUR GENEROUS SUPPORT AS WEBB TURNS TO NEW LEADERSHIP!

Alison D. Granger P'14 (Hon.)
Development Committee Chair

Dear Friends,

It was wonderful to see so many of you on campus back in May for Homecoming, President Michel's retirement dinner, and the Heritage Society event. I hope you thoroughly enjoyed your visit and the chance to connect in person with classmates and friends!

THANK YOU for your generosity to Webb. Your gifts provide critical support to ensure that every Webb student receives a world-class education in naval architecture and marine engineering with the benefit of a full-tuition scholarship. As you will read in the following pages, Webb alumni, parents, and friends, both individual and institutional, generously provided that support through donations exceeding $5 million in the 2021-2022 fiscal year. In recognition of the accomplishments of Keith Michel '73 during his tenure as President, the Keith Michel Tuition Scholarship Fund and the Keith Michel Room & Board Scholarship Fund were established as permanently restricted endowments. Donors to these funds generously gave above and beyond their gifts to the Annual Fund.

These results would not have been possible without the continued hard work of Webb's fundraising volunteers, Webb Development staff and administration, and of the Webb Development Committee. My personal thanks go to my colleagues on the Development Committee for their dedication, thoughtful perspective, and stewardship. All of us on the Committee deeply appreciate the volunteer efforts of Webb Alumni Fund Chairman Jake Neuman '93, Webb Planned Giving ("Heritage Society") Chair John Malone '71, Webb Parent of Alumni Fund Co-Chairs Tom '89 and Jen '91 Waters P '20 and Hal Granger P '14, and Webb Parent Annual Fund Co-Chairs Jeanine and Paul Becker P '21, P '22, and Eryn and Robin Donaldson P '24 for their respective leadership of these Webb volunteer fundraising committees. Jeanine and Paul's son Kevin has now graduated. We thank them for their effective leadership over the past four years and are grateful to the Donaldsons for continuing to serve in the role as co-chairs this year. We all appreciate the work of each of the class agents, parents, alumni and friends of Webb who have donated their time and energy to personally contact Webb's donors and prospects.

Our volunteers continue to be energetically supported by Webb's Development Office staff. Led by Anthony Zic, Joe Cascio, Shanna Hamilton, Gailmarie Sujecki (Hon.), and Alicia Edgar have worked together with their Webb colleagues and the Development Committee, to continuously enhance and expand the fundraising reach of the institution.

Finally, I would like to recognize the development-related contributions of President Michel. It was a great pleasure to work closely with him during his nine-year tenure. Under his leadership the Campaign for Webb raised over $51 million, enabling the construction of the Couch Academic Center and other campus improvements. Annual contributions to the Alumni Fund nearly doubled. The Parent Fund was repurposed to provide greater unrestricted support, and the Parent of Alumni Fund was established. Financial support from foundations was secured to enhance facilities, bolster Webb's scholarship program to admit students on a need-blind basis, and provide an enhanced environmental curriculum. Regional meetings throughout the US and Europe were hosted to provide a State of the Institute to alumni, parents, and friends. And, as hospitality is a key ingredient in development activities, alumni, parents, friends, staff and students were continuously welcomed into the President's House for gatherings ranging from the formal Heritage Society Dinner to casual conversations over coffee on the back patio.

I look forward to working as closely with President Mark Martecchini and his wife Laurie. They are enthusiastically embracing their new roles, know Webb well, and have hit the ground running. If you have not yet had a chance to meet them, I do hope you will pay a visit to the Webb campus soon.

We wish you and your families all the best. We value your confidence and strive to be exemplary stewards of the donations you have entrusted to Webb. Thank you.

COUCH INNOVATION

On October 21, 2022, Webb officially opened the doors to the Couch Innovation Lab & Makerspace. John Couch, honorary Webb alumnus and Trustee, offered the following remarks during the event:

“My gift to establish the Couch Innovation Lab is intended to honor my father, Richard B. Couch, Webb Class of 1933. His Webb experience served him very well. Among other accomplishments it propelled him to the position of the U.S. Navy’s Chief Naval Architect. A key to his success throughout his career was finding creative solutions to complex problems. So, this is a fitting honor, and I’m proud to have the family name associated with such an amazing new facility...Innovation is an imperative in today’s business, and among the attributes that are most valued by employers are an individual’s initiative, ability, and willingness to explore new and unconventional ideas—the ability to think outside of the box. Neither great ideas nor great progress emerge often from a single individual or function. Good ideas and true innovation require human interaction, conflict, and debate.

“I look forward to this lab inspiring students to think and perceive things differently, as well as becoming a catalyst for them to collaborate more, leading to even greater creativity and innovation.”

WILLIAM DUBARRY THOMAS: A REMARKABLE ACT OF BENEVOLENCE

Anthony R. Zic,
Director of Development

In December 2021, Webb received one of the largest estate gifts in its history. As I have learned more about the late William duBarry Thomas '51, affectionately known as Barry by the Webb family, I quickly gained an even greater appreciation for his remarkable act of benevolence, rooted in a family's lineage of shipbuilders and extensive ties to our founder's family.

Barry and his late wife Ann, a Glen Cove native, were long-standing members of Webb's Heritage Society. They were not only tremendously generous, but they were also big advocates of planned giving, even participating in a 1994 Webb video promoting Heritage Society membership.

Barry's passion for Webb is evident in an article he penned in 2004, The Webb Circle:

"We who are graduates of Webb Institute—from 1897 through 2003—have one precious thing in common. We are all proud members of what may be called "The Webb Circle." It seems almost unnecessary to explain what that means. We all know. Many of us came to Webb with the school almost an unknown institution—but a highly recommended one—which promised to convert the raw freshman into a seasoned graduate ready to take on the maritime world in a way that would be impossible to comprehend four years before. We had joined "The Webb Circle." Others, like myself, knew Webb as a schoolboy. In fact, the association of my family with that of William H. Webb began in the 1820s, when my great-great grandfather—in his teens and fresh from Newport, Rhode Island—served an apprenticeship at the New York shipyard of Isaac Webb, William's father. Many years later, in 1892, after the school had been founded, William H. Webb asked my great-grandfather to become a trustee. His term ended with his death in 1916, at which time he was succeeded by my grandfather, who remained on the board until his passing in 1947, only a few months after I had been accepted as an incoming freshman. In the half century since my graduation, I have never lost sight of this long and fortunate relationship, and I have always experienced the strong, almost magnetic attraction of "The Webb Circle," and find that, even after that long time, I still find that Webb gave me so much more than I shall ever be able to pay back.

With the current capital campaign, the opportunity is there as never before to express our heartfelt thanks to Webb Institute—and to William H. Webb for his generous endowment of the school. At this time, there are sorely needed improvements to the physical plant of the campus, which the generosity of the alumni and alumnae can help to put in place. What better time to remind ourselves of the importance in our chosen careers—and in our lives—of being a member of "The Webb Circle!"

Excerpts from A Centennial History of Webb Institute of Naval Architecture, co-written by Edwin L. Dunbaugh and William duBarry Thomas '51, document several of Barry's biographical milestones through 1994. According to the publication, Barry was a naval architect and marine historian. His military experience dated back to the waning days of World War II (U.S. Navy, 1945-46). After graduation, he spent seven years (1951-58) as a naval architect at Island Dock, Inc., Kingston, New York, followed by twenty-eight years with J.J. Henry Co., Inc. (1958-86), where much of the time was spent in coping with the idiosyncrasies of LNG transportation, and where his first task was to build an aluminum cargo tank for Methane Pioneer at Morgan City, Louisiana. Since his retirement in 1986, he has provided “offbeat” maritime consulting services. Barry was VP of Steamship Historical Society of America. He was active in SNAME and thankful for having had the opportunity to live on three continents, travel to two more, and have a glorious time while doing so. Barry had one son. If given the opportunity to do it again, he would change little if any of the past 42 years.

Barry was also generous in the time he devoted to Webb, he served as Webb Alumni Fund Class Agent from 1983 – 1990, and again from 1994 – 2011. In 1989, he co-authored the William H. Webb: Shipbuilder. It should come as no surprise that in 1995, Barry was bestowed the most prestigious award a Webb graduate can receive from Webb’s Alumni Association in recognition of his outstanding achievement and service to the profession—the William Selkirk Owen Award.

Barry enjoyed painting—especially paintings of ships—and was an avid collector of maritime art. Much of his artwork has been donated to Webb in 2014, along with his half-hull model collection, and oil paintings of various vessels.

As documented in 2004-05 Fall Webb News article titled “The Tale of Two Winners: The William duBarry Thomases and Webb,” in 2000, Barry and his wife Ann set up a Charitable Remainder Uni-Trust (CRUT) as a planned giving vehicle which enabled them to join Webb’s Heritage Society. “In 1958, when Barry was only seven years out of Webb, Barry vaguely recalls buying 10 shares of a reputable major company[...]. One or two modest additional purchases would follow.” In the end, their investments provided a substantial source of income for their retirement, and ultimately, the remainder was received by Webb.

The William H. Webb Society recognizes a special group of supporters whose lifetime contributions exceed $25,000. Throughout their lifetimes, the Thomases extraordinary generosity place them among Webb’s Laureate Fellows, achieved by only a few members of the Webb family (see Page 25-26 for a full list).

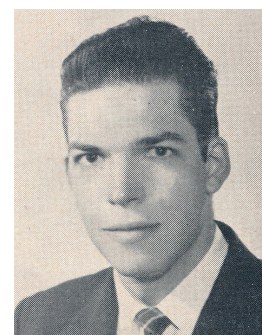

Barry passed away at the age of 93 on January 25, 2021. In recognition of his many contributions to his alma mater, Webb has named the room at the end of the northeast wing corridor of Stevenson Taylor Hall as the William duBarry Thomas ’51 Conference Room. We hope you will soon visit Webb and the recently named space, where many of Barry’s donated artworks reside.

Message from the Dean:

EMPOWERING INNOVATORS

Matthew R. Werner '95, PG'97
*Dean & ABS Chair of Naval Architecture
& Marine Engineering*

If I asked you, “What are Webb graduates known for,” what would you say? If I had to guess your answer, it would likely include: technical excellence, professionalism, hard work, ethical conduct, and a strong theoretical and practical understanding of the fundamental principles of naval architecture and marine engineering. I wonder, however, how many of you would include the word innovation as part of your response.

William H. Webb was our institution’s principal innovator. I am reminded of this every day as I set my eyes on the magnificent model of the Dunderberg, displayed in the tunnel between Stevenson Taylor Hall and the Couch Academic Center. Over the years, Webb graduates have been at the forefront of the establishment of the United States Nuclear Navy, the development of offshore floating platforms, and the ocean transportation of liquified natural gas (LNG). Webb graduates were and continue to be instrumental in the development of software that is used in the design and analysis of marine vehicles. The design and construction of ships and boats of all types, as well as their systems and components, have been influenced by the innovations that Webb graduates have helped to develop and employ. Of course, there are also plenty of innovations made by Webbies in industries outside of naval architecture and marine engineering. (Yes, they too still count as Webbies.)

With the rapid pace of technological advancement and the complex challenges facing the world, particularly the marine industry, the ability to innovate will be a key competency of successful engineers in the future. Webb’s faculty has been working to better address new technologies and innovation in the academic program. Our efforts to address these concepts are grounded in a continuous review and enhancement of curriculum which I have detailed in past articles, and the establishment of facilities that will support the curriculum changes. The Couch Innovation Lab & Makerspace is Webb’s signature facility dedicated to enhancing the students’ exposure to innovation in the Webb academic experience.

The Couch Innovation Lab was conceived and designed to provide Webb students with the opportunity to develop an innovative mindset. The space is intended to allow students to explore, learn, and create through course work—thesis projects and personal use. The equipment selected for the lab supports both additive manufacturing and reductive manufacturing. It is a place to create, build, modify, improve, and repair all manner of engineered items.

The lab’s additive manufacturing capabilities are centered around three different 3D printers which augment the 3D printers that have been in place in the Richard B. Couch ‘33 Computer Laboratory and the Robinson Model Basin. An Anycubic UV resin 3D printer serves as the lab’s entry level printer with fast printing speeds and with lower resolution. A Sovol dual extruder polymer 3D printer enables the production of higher resolution prints with a variety of material types and with two different filaments simultaneously. The lab’s Makerbot Method X printer provides the ability to produce high resolution prints with a variety of materials including carbon fiber and stainless steel. The Makerbot Method X’s material options provides Webb the ability to 3D print structural parts. When these printers are coupled with the lab's EinScan-SP 3D scanner, we can create a scale replica of a three-dimensional object in a matter of minutes or hours.

While additive manufacturing is digital by its nature, we have also incorporated digital capabilities in the reductive manufacturing side of the lab via the Tormach 770M CNC milling machine and the BossLaser 2440 CO₂ laser cutter. The 770M has a maximum speed of 10,000 RPM, a working envelope of 14" x 7.5" x 13.25," and is equipped with a safety enclosure to protect users and bystanders. The 770m can process plastics, wood, and metals. The BossLaser 2440 is a 150-Watt water-cooled CO₂ laser with a working area of 40" x 24". The laser can cut and engrave a variety of flat materials including plastics, rubber, fabrics, leather, wood, steel, and mild steel. A rotary attachment allows for the engraving or cutting of objects with round cross sections. The lab also features a Formech 450 DT vacuum former, which complements the 3D printers and other tools by facilitating the creation of plastic parts and shapes from a positive mold. A mold created with any of the additive or reductive manufacturing tools can be placed into the vacuum former and a thermoformed plastic part can be rapidly and repetitively produced in a variety of material types and thicknesses.

When the 3D printers, CNC mill, and laser cutter are paired with Webb's suite of CAD, CAM, and solid modeling software, we can advance a digital model to a highly accurate physical prototype in minutes or hours depending on the object's size and complexity. For more hands-on and artistic innovators, traditional manual bench tools including a bandsaw, scroll saw, micro table saw, mini lathe, palm router, drill press, grinder, and sander support non-computerized manufacturing methods. The lab's tool chests are filled with a complete suite of hand tools and cordless power tools. Finally, the lab is also outfitted with compressed air and dust collection equipment.

The lab's layout and outfitting were designed to support activities of a full class of 28 students. Mobile benches add flexibility to the space, while air conditioning and ample lighting make the lab a comfortable learning and working environment. A portable large LCD screen supports the use of the space for teaching and learning.

We officially opened the Couch Innovation Lab on October 21, 2022 (see pages 7-8 for images from the lab's grand opening). Webb seniors Gabe Allen and Natalie Webb are the first students to work on projects in the Couch Innovation Lab during the fall 2022 semester, constructing a buoyancy glider designed for their thesis project. More specifically, they have used the Sovol 3D printer to produce several key components of their design. Professor Golden's Introduction to Naval Architecture class used the lab facilities and tools to complete the course's final project—the construction of battery-powered speedboats which were later tested in the Robinson Model Basin.

The Couch Lab is impressive yet remains a work in progress. As faculty assign new course work and students take on new projects, additional tools and equipment will be added to support these activities. Also, we will expand the use of the lab to other members of the campus community and provide training programs to ensure safe and effective use of the various tools and equipment.

I would like to give a special thanks to John Couch, honorary Webb alumnus and Trustee, for his generous contributions to establish such a creative space. I look forward to sharing with you some of the creations fashioned in the lab in future Webb communications. Let the innovating begin!

Message from the Chairman of the Webb Alumni Fund:

2021-22 WAS ANOTHER BANNER YEAR FOR WEBB!

Jake M. Neuman '93
Chairman of the Webb Alumni Fund

The 2021-22 Webb Alumni Fund (WAF) was a smashing success thanks to your generous support; we collectively raised $2,431,250 from 71% of participating alumni! I want to thank every single donor who contributed their hard-earned money to Webb.

Some of the key ingredients that made this year especially successful:

- The Keith Michel Scholarship Fund: $332,571 of the contributions received to this special scholarship fund was contributed by Webb alumni.

- Class of 1962 60th reunion gift: established an endowed room and board scholarship for students with a demonstrated financial need.
- Class of 1967 55th reunion gift: named a dormitory room in memory of their late classmate, Greg “Tux” Tuxworth.
- Class of 1987 35th reunion gift: established an endowed commencement award in memory of their late classmate, Richard Partanen.
- Class of 2007 15th reunion gift: provided funding for a rigid inflatable boat to support student life.
- Senior Class Gift: donated room security deposits for the purchase of a new range for the student kitchen.
- Phon-a-thon and Webb Giving Day: A record-breaking $175,300 in pledges was secured through Webb’s Phon-a-thon; and in another Webb record, $79,215 was secured on Webb’s Giving Day!

The most important ingredient to our success is the hard work of Webb family members—students, volunteers, and staff—whose hard work helped to ensure that we met and exceeded our goal of raising $2.1 million. I’m so appreciative of everyone’s effort. If you want to get involved, I invite you to become an ambassador for the school through the Webb Alumni Fund!

You can have a big impact on the future of our fundraising success and Webb’s financial well-being by:

- Maximizing your current giving levels – The WAF average gift is $2,558 and the median gift is $850. Maybe these are goals you can strive for or comfortably exceed, depending on your circumstances.
- Giving as early in the giving year as possible – This allows everyone involved in this effort to spend more time cultivating alumni that either do not give regularly or have not yet given at all.
- Serving as an ambassador for the WAF and Webb – Help your fellow class agents by encouraging classmates to maximize their giving and to give as early in the giving year as possible. Sharing your giving strategies (monthly giving, gifts of stock, gifts leveraging donor advised funds, charitable distributions from your IRA, matching gifts, etc.) may inspire a new gift or help your peers achieve new giving levels!

DID YOU KNOW?

MATCHING GIFTS

Many of your employers offer matching gift programs that can help maximize the impact of your gift, sometimes doubling or tripling your contribution. Webb's new online giving page has a simple way to check if your employer has a participating program. During the 2021-22 giving year, $198,000 in matching gift pledges were committed to Webb. For most companies, this process is electronic and takes a couple of minutes for you to complete. I would say this is time well spent. ExxonMobil, Apple, General Dynamics, Gibbs & Cox, and many others (see Page 40 for a full list of participating partners) have contributed generously through Webb via matching gifts.

STOCK GIFTS

Transferring appreciated stocks, bonds, or mutual fund shares can have a big tax advantage. You get an immediate income tax deduction for the fair market value of the securities even if you originally paid much less for them, and you pay no capital gains tax when the stock is sold.

CREDIT CARD DONATIONS

While quick and convenient, these gifts also come with a cost to Webb—a processing fee of approximately 2.5% plus a transaction fee. To help Webb save money, consider setting up a “bill pay” through your bank’s website. Banks typically mail checks to payees, including Webb, free of charge. You can also set up a recurring gift from your bank on Webb’s giving page.

IRA ROLLOVERS (Qualified Charitable Distributions (QCD's))

If you're 70 ½ or older, you can transfer up to $100,000 from your traditional IRA. You do not recognize the transfer to Webb Institute as income, provided it goes directly from the IRA administrator to Webb; therefore, you are not entitled to an income tax charitable deduction for your gift.

ONE OF THE QUESTIONS I GET ASKED THE MOST: HOW MUCH SHOULD I GIVE?

There is no one size fits all answer to this question.

Give what you can afford...give until it feels good ... strive to meet or exceed Webb's average gift ($2,972)... Or, give a Week for Webb. A Week for Webb is a concept that began through a giving program known as Webb Appreciation Notes. Webb Appreciation Notes were a series of twenty personal notes that every graduating senior was asked to sign, each one pledging annual support of $25.00. The notes were “non-negotiable” and expected to be paid over the first twenty years of an alum's career. This amount closely correlated with the average weekly salary of a new Webb graduate. For some of you, contributing a week for Webb might be a great target to strive for; for others, this is a mark you can and should easily exceed.

AMAZON SMILE

AmazonSmile is a simple way for you to support Webb while you're shopping online for yourself or your loved ones. The program is easy to set up (go to smile.amazon.com), and AmazonSmile will donate 0.5% of your eligible purchases to Webb! Think about how much could be raised if every Webb donor used this FREE fundraising tool. Here is something to smile about: In the last few years, Webb received $2,800 from this program. Every dollar counts!

WEBBIES PROCRASTINATE

I realize this isn't exactly news, but more than 20% of our Webb Alumni Fund donors wait until the last two weeks of the giving year to make their gift. Consider making your gift before or on Webb's Giving Day, which coincides with May Homecoming; this will really help enhance our fundraising outreach.

WEBB HERITAGE SOCIETY

Regardless of how much you can afford to give today, you can be an important part of helping Webb's future by becoming a member of the Heritage Society. This can be accomplished in many ways, the simplest of which is designating Webb as a beneficiary of your retirement account or making a bequest in your will/trust. Please consider joining the 171 living members of the Heritage Society who have already taken this step!

If you have questions on any of the programs mentioned above, please call our Development Team at (516) 759-2040.

WEBB'S HARRIET LANE FINDS ITS WAY HOME IN THE RUBY LOUNGE

Gene Schorsch '52

On October 15, 2022, a model of the USS Harriet Lane was presented to Webb President Mark F. Martecchini '79. What is the connection that binds the Harriet Lane, built 164 years ago, to the Ruby Lounge, dedicated in 2019?

In 1858, William Webb built the Harriet Lane for the U.S. Revenue Cutter Service, the predecessor of the U.S. Coast Guard. In 1978, at age 43, my sister Ruby Bornstein was tragically killed in an automobile accident. She was the twin sister of my brother, the late Dan Schorsch '58. The Ruby Lounge is located in the upper level of Webb's Couch Academic Center.

A few weeks after the accident, Dan decided to become a lawyer. In light of Ruby's loss, he wanted to devote his life to helping people rather than building things as he was doing in Waynesboro, Virginia at Hopeman Brothers, a leading manufacturer for the marine industry. When Dan began his law practice, he continued to build ship models as a way to pursue his never-ending interest in marine lore. Dan became a skilled model builder. One of the ships he chose to model was the Harriet Lane.

Dan was active in the Waynesboro Rotary and decided to donate the Harriet Lane model to the organization for a fundraising drive. Years later, the family that bought the model returned it to the Rotary for another fundraising drive, which was attended by Ellen Schorsch, Dan's widow. She decided to acquire the model, realizing how pleased Dan would be if the model found its home at Webb, in the Ruby Lounge.

Covid prevented Seth Jones '19, Dan's grandson, from joining our family members in the presentation of the Harriet Lane model to President Martecchini. We are grateful to our friends and family whose generosity made possible the dedication of the Ruby Lounge and to Webb Institute for including the Harriet Lane in the Ruby Lounge.

There is a fine account of the Harriet Lane in the book William H. Webb, Shipbuilder by Edwin L. Dunbaugh and William duBarry Thomas published in 1989 as part of the Centennial Celebration of Webb Institute's founding.

Class Agent Corner:

NAMING A DORMITORY ROOM FOR OUR DEAR FRIEND TUX

John Russell '67 & The Class of 1967

The Class of 1967 is proud of its record of nearly 100% participation in the Webb Alumni Fund. We're particularly proud that a member of our freshman class, Mark Skinner, who didn't "survive" past the freshman year has considered himself, with our wholehearted concurrence, to be a member of our class. After his time at Webb, Mark received a Doctorate in Education. Another one of our classmates, John Russell, served as Chairman of Webb's Board of Trustees and has since been appointed as Trustee Emeritus.

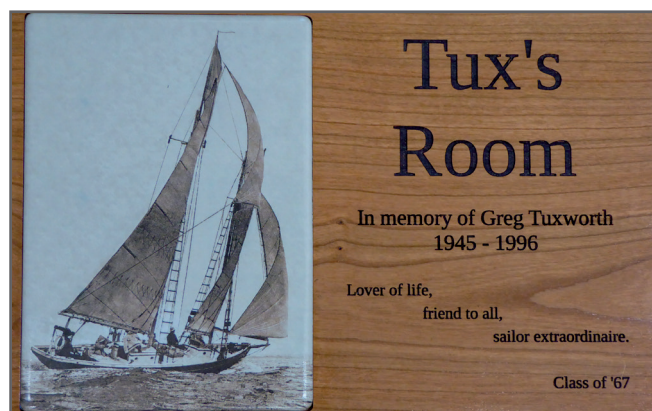

After graduation, many of us went to graduate school: one to Yale Medical School, two to Harvard Business School, many to MIT, a number to Navy Officer Candidate School (then to Engineering Duty Officer), one as a commissioned officer in the US Coast Guard, and at least one for an assignment to a Naval shipyard. The backdrop for these choices was the alternative of a nearly certain induction into the Army as a foot soldier in the Vietnam War, if a student or occupational draft deferment or enlistment into an officer candidate program was not obtained.

Any 55th reunion suffers from following the "big-deal 50th," but nonetheless, we gladly raised $55,000 as a class gift to Webb, with the objective of naming a dormitory room in Stevenson Taylor Hall in honor of one of our classmates, Greg "Tux" Tuxworth. The room had been a class gathering place because it was large, and because of the welcoming nature of Greg and his roommates.

We have had one death in our class, our beloved classmate Greg Tuxworth. Greg's casual outgoing nature and inclusive attitude made him one of the most well-liked members of our class, and perhaps of the school. After working as a Trials Engineer at General Dynamics' Quincy shipyard, Tux returned to his passion and expertise in sailing. He became a respected and renown yacht captain/navigator/project manager for world-class offshore racing yachts. Greg sailed in 10 trans-Atlantic racers, seven Southern Ocean Racing Circuits, The Ocean Race (formerly known as the Whitbread Round the World Race), and virtually every major global ocean race. His final professional sailing assignment was a trans-Pacific delivery of the 73-foot maxi-yacht Windward Passage from Florida to Australia. From 1986-93, he was operations manager for Concordia Company, and in 1993, Tux started his own full-service boat yard in his hometown of Mattapoisett, Massachusetts. He tragically died in May 1996 at age 50 from asbestos inhalation decades earlier.

The Stevenson Taylor Hall dormitory room #213 has been dedicated to Tux and named "Tux's Room." With the help of our classmates, John Sirutis has produced a plaque that will be mounted next to the door to Room #213. It will honor our beloved classmate and perhaps inspire other Webbies to undertake adventuresome, courageous, and non-traditional careers. The plaque has a ceramic insert with a photograph of Greg, taken on his family's schooner under glorious full sail. It is the boat on which Greg developed his love and honed his skills for sailing, which drove his lifelong endeavors. We are all sorely missing his exuberance for life's adventures and sincere friendship.

Plaque to be installed outside of STH Room 213

Message from the Planned Giving Chair:

WEBB HERITAGE SOCIETY RECORDS MAJOR SUCCESS IN FY22

John A. Malone '71
Planned Giving Chair

It is a pleasure to report that Webb's 2021-22 fiscal year (FY22) was a resounding success in terms of growing the membership of the Heritage Society¹ as well as providing Webb an injection of always-needed revenue. We welcomed 15 new members to the Heritage Society in FY22 (July 1, 2021 - June 30, 2022): Paulo Almeida '95, A. Todd Andre-Colton '74, Christopher Bal '20, Gerald Bellows '71, Katherine Dixon P'11, Philip Douthit '72, Willa France '72, Prof. Richard Harris, Sean Healy '21, Wilma Kehl P'91, GP'20, Timothy Knowles '75, Prof. Adrian Onas, Jonathan Roussin '17, Reuben Taylor '55, and Katherine "Kitty" Wallin (spouse of PG'62). Sadly, three Heritage Society members passed away during the same period: Barbara Hamlin (Hon.), Homer "Norm" Wallin PG'62, and Prof. Lawrence W. Ward PG'51. Thus, there was a net increase of 12 living Heritage Society members (i.e., 7.5%) in FY22, bringing the total number of living members to 172 as of June 30, 2022 (see the list of all Heritage Society members, both living and deceased, on pages 29-30).

The tables below show year-over-year changes in Heritage Society membership, broken down by alumni class decade, and by constituency.

Included in the constituencies in the table below are seven parents of alumni (vs. four a year ago), and five members of Webb staff and administration (vs. three a year ago), further demonstrating the breadth of membership in the Heritage Society. Fifty-six Webb classes spread over eight decades are represented in the Heritage Society. We are pleased to recognize the top classes ranked by the number of Heritage Society members and by percentage of the living members in the class, as follows:

¹The Webb Heritage Society was created to recognize and honor those who have had the foresight and generosity to include Webb Institute in their estate plans; have added Webb as a beneficiary of their bank accounts, insurance policies, 401(k)'s, IRA's; or, have employed other planned giving vehicles.

Note that the Class of 1972 moved up from 15th to 9th in the ranking by number of class members in the Heritage Society, and from 25th to 9th in the ranking by percentage of class members in the Heritage Society, because two classmates made a planned gift this past year. Many thanks to Jamie Greenlees '72 and Class Agent Dave Chapman '72 for their efforts to make this happen! Similarly, a year ago the Class of 1970 moved into the "top ten" by number and percentage of classmates in the Heritage Society by adding two new members. Thanks to Class Agent Dave Bovet '70 and his classmates Eric Linsner and Rick Neilson for their efforts as part of the 50th anniversary celebration of their graduation from Webb! FYI, the rankings for all Webb classes are posted on Webb's website at www.webb.edu/hranking.

In addition to the good news regarding the increase in Heritage Society members in FY22, Webb also realized just over $1.6 million in realized planned gifts in FY22. This includes one of the largest planned gifts in Webb's history, from the estate of William duBarry ("Barry") Thomas '51. It also includes realized gifts from four other alumni who had the foresight to provide for Webb in their estate plans. There is no minimum required amount—and, of course, there is no maximum amount—for which a planned gift can be established. Webb receives planned gifts ranging from thousands of dollars to millions, and while the latter understandably draw the greatest attention, commitments of all sizes make a meaningful impact. Clearly, Webb is extremely grateful for every planned gift.

The annual Heritage Society Reception and Dinner was held on Friday evening, May 20, 2022. The event expresses Webb's appreciation to its Heritage Society members and welcomes the 50th anniversary class as participants with the hope that those who are not already members will be motivated to join. The Classes of '71 and '72 were both invited this year, as the former had postponed their 50th anniversary reunion a year due to Covid. With a record number of Heritage Society members in attendance, including the Classes of '71 and '72, Webb's Covid protocols dictated holding the event under a tent on the first terrace of Stevenson Taylor Hall rather than at the President's house which has been the usual venue. As has become a tradition, the meal was prepared and served by Webb students, showing their appreciation for the important role that Heritage Society members play in providing them and their successors a full-tuition Webb scholarship. The accompanying photos attest to the fact that the event was a resounding success, and a good time was had by all!

We look forward to continued growth of the Heritage Society in the coming years. Planned gifts are a way for alumni to supplement their annual donations to "give back" (or "pay forward") the value of their Webb education. Such commitments also enable all constituencies of the Webb Family to help secure the Institute's financial future, perpetuating Webb's full-tuition scholarship, and meeting the full demonstrated need of all Webb students. To say that Heritage Society members are a very special group within the Webb Family is an understatement. Heritage Society members are the heart and soul of the Webb Family.

For more information on Webb's Heritage Society, including information on various planned gifts and how to become a member, please call our Director of Development, Anthony Zic at 516-759-2040 or email him at azic@webb.edu. All members receive a Heritage Society pin, a Young America drawing suitable for framing, recognition in the Lenfest Gallery, and an invitation to the annual Heritage Society Reception and Dinner.

Annual Heritage Society Reception & Dinner on Webb's first terrace

Pat Linsner "showing off" the Webb Giving Day video

Webb Institute is fortunate to have alumni and friends whose dedication to the institution has inspired them to leave a lasting legacy. There are members of the Heritage Society as young as members of the Class of 2021—so you see, it is never too early to consider Webb in your future plans. Legacy gifts are the cornerstone upon which Webb was built, and they will continue to play a vital role in Webb's finances. These thoughtful gifts provide Webb with the fiscal strength and security needed for future generations. Below is a list of living and deceased members of the Heritage Society as of September 30, 2022.

Webb Institute's unique financial model is predicated upon our ability to attract funds that support our students, faculty, and staff. Webb is the only full-tuition scholarship private undergraduate program of its kind in the country, and it is critical that we sustain this model for students who are academically and personally prepared for the Webb challenge.

From the start, Webb has relied upon its endowment, initially through funds provided by William H. Webb, and later through the generosity of alumni, family, and friends. The concept is as relevant today as it was in 1889, when William H. Webb established the original endowment. Every unrestricted contribution to Webb's Annual Fund helps ensure the inter-generational sustainability of Webb's full-tuition scholarship model.

Beginning in 2017, Webb has also joined a list of only 70 colleges and universities that in addition to full-tuition scholarship support, provide for the full demonstrated financial need of all students, inclusive of room and board costs.

Webb is also supported by a variety of non-endowed, restricted gifts that enhance the Webb student experience through the arts, clubs, and much more. We thank each and every member of the Webb family for your support!

Continuing recent tradition, Webb's new President Mark Martecchini '79, P'09 and First Lady Laurie invited all parents of alumni to breakfast at the President's House on Sunday of Family Weekend, followed by the always entertaining Freshman Boat Race. We hope more can attend next year!

President Martecchini's invitation underscores the solidarity of the Webb community, extending even to parents whose Webb students have graduated to become Webb alumni. Webb's amazing Parents of Alumni Group continues to embrace William H. Webb's culture of philanthropy, with 139 Webb parents of alumni donating $225,787 to the 2021-2022 Annual Fund. This loyal support is so meaningful, funding the equivalent of nearly four full-tuition scholarships. Thank you to all for your continuing generosity!

MAKING CONNECTIONS

Robin and Eryn Donaldson, P'24
Parents Annual Fund Co-Chairs

An important role of the Webb Family is the support provided through the Parents Annual Fund. True to Webb's community spirit, we are joined in our efforts by nine other Webb families, including four from the Class of 2026. We are grateful to this dedicated group of volunteers for sharing their love of Webb by reaching out to parents in support of the Institute.

During the 2021-22 Annual Fund year, 60% of parents and grandparents made generous contributions totaling $159,720, well surpassing our goal of $135,000. We want to take this opportunity to once again say THANK YOU to each and every one of the 61 families who were part of this remarkable success story. These gifts help to enrich the Webb social experience, fortify academic offerings, enhance Webb's social clubs and athletic teams, and of course, help Webb sustain the ever-important full-tuition scholarships. As you can see, your support makes an immediate impact on Webb and our students.

Although we appreciate the importance of securing resources for Webb, it has been truly rewarding to make personal connections with so many of the families. We hope to get to know each of you before our son Payne graduates from Webb. If you'd like to join us as a volunteer, we'd love to hear from you!

Message from the Webb Parents Association Chair:

A WELCOME RETURN TO NORMALCY

George Mouravieff P'09, P'11, P'16
Webb Parents Association Chair

Surely many of us are happy that some level of normalcy has returned to Webb after navigating recent challenges. We've finally been able to get together in person and spend time with the Webb family, which is a crucial part of the Webb experience. There may be more challenges ahead that remain unseen at this time, but we have all shown that through unwavering commitment and mutual support, Webbies can overcome any obstacle.

The incoming members of the Class of 2026 are impressive, and their wide array of talents will help to fill the void left by our recent graduates. Members of the Class of 2022 have moved on to professional and academic pursuits, and Webb has well equipped them to find their unique paths to success. We hope they will soon return to campus to embrace the next chapter of their Webb experience, only to be enhanced by members of the Webb Family, new and old. They will also be embraced by Webb's incoming President, Mark Martecchini '79, who can draw on his past experience as a Webb alumnus and a parent of a Webb alumnus, Niko '09. As a parent of three Webb graduates, I share in the appreciation of Webb's full-tuition scholarship which our children have received. This gift is in great part due to the fabric of the commitment that unites us all. We should all be grateful.

The Class of 2026 with their parents on Move-In Day.

The Webb Every Year Program (WebbEY) was established during the 2006-2007 Annual Fund. Initially, this program was created to acknowledge alumni donors for their consecutive years of giving. Eventually, it was extended to include other members within our community, and it now recognizes family and friends. The WebbEY program was created strictly to recognize our donors' consistency of support, regardless of gift amount.

In order to attain the status of becoming a WebbEY, a donor has to contribute to the Annual Fund for a minimum of five consecutive years. To show appreciation to our consecutive giving donors, Webb Institute now mails a pin to those in the five, 25, and 50-year consecutive giving categories.

Consecutive giving allows Webb to plan for the future with assurance and to continue to be recognized as the premier college of naval architecture and marine engineering. We wish to thank the following donors for their loyalty and generosity and for attaining the distinct honor of achieving WebbEY status this year.

Message from the Chair of the Finance Committee:

FINANCE & INVESTMENTS

Paulo Almeida '95
Chair, Finance Committee

I am delighted to have joined Webb's Board of Trustees in May 2021 and to have been appointed as Chair of the Finance Committee in October 2021. Webb is grateful for the leadership, guidance and exemplary service shown by Jon LaBerge as the outgoing Chair of the Finance Committee, a position he held since 2016. Thank you, Jon!

Following several years of strong financial performance for Webb, driven by strong investment returns, fundraising success (including the Campaign for Webb), cost control and COVID-related government support, Fiscal Year 2022 (the year ending June 30, 2022) was significantly impacted by challenging financial markets.

The value of Webb's investments decreased 17.4%, from $80.6m to $66.5m, largely related to decreases in market value, and to a minor extent, a draw on the endowment. Figures 1 and 2 show Webb's FY22 Statement of Financial Position (Balance Sheet) and Statement of Activities (Income Statement).

The investment returns were impacted by a sharp, swift, and broad-based market downturn which began early this year. A long period of declining interest rates and low inflation were followed by COVID fiscal stimulus, supply chain problems, and the war in Ukraine which together generated high inflation. The U.S. Federal Reserve dramatically increased interest rates to fight inflation, and this led to a nearly unprecedented combination of losses for both stocks and bonds which have not yet recovered as the markets now face recessionary fears.

Webb's Investment Committee is comprised of Webb Trustees who are veteran investment professionals. They work closely with our investment advisers to manage the Webb endowment to an institutional investment standard which seeks to attain investment returns sufficient to support Webb's mission over the long-term. Inherent in this approach is the willingness to accept the near-term market volatility we have experienced in recent months. While market conditions have been unforgiving, the structural integrity of Webb's endowment portfolio is strong with access to multiple sources of liquidity to support Webb's operations, retention of world-class investment management firms who emphasize active management to invest in companies with strong operations, solid balance sheets, and ample access to capital to fund future growth. Inflationary and investment loss risks were highlighted in last year's report and in the long-term financial assessment prepared by the Finance Committee in early 2022.

The Board of Trustees and Administration are committed to Webb's long-term financial health and the maintenance of our full-tuition scholarship model. Although recent developments have introduced additional challenges, the key factors to a successful financial future remain the same as highlighted by Jon in recent years: continue the growth of the Annual Fund in excess of inflation, limit increases in budgeted expenses to the rate of inflation, expand the

Heritage Society membership and work purposefully with Heritage Society members on their intentions regarding planned giving, pursue other sources of funding from outside the Webb family and from new revenue sources, and invest the endowment in accordance with Webb's risk tolerance.

Webb made significant progress during the year with donor gifts which increased $1.7 million from the prior year with several large gifts from alumni and their estates. While inflation and market forces are out of our control, our generous financial support during this challenging time will prove critical to Webb's financial health.

Webb calculates the annual draw rate on its unrestricted endowment by subtracting its cash expenditures (operating costs plus routine capital expenditures) from its total revenues (unrestricted gifts plus releases from restricted endowment funds) and dividing the result by the 5-year average of the unrestricted endowment. We also present the 5-year average draw rate which reduces the volatility from significant year-to-year changes in large gift amounts. The Finance Committee believes this average rate is a good overall indicator of Webb's financial health and long-range financial sustainability.

Webb's Board of Trustees sets a target draw rate based on expected investment returns that reflect Webb's risk tolerance plus an allowance for inflation; the target draw rate remains at 4.25%. If Webb can stay below this target draw rate, the endowment will be intergenerationally sustainable. Figure 3 shows the yearly draw rates over the past 6 years. Last year, supported by several large gifts, Webb had a small negative draw rate (an operating surplus), which coupled with an average draw rate over the past 5 years of -0.2%—well below the target—indicates that Webb's overall financial health is strong and financially sustainable.

The Finance Committee, working with the Administration and other key committees, continues to update our long-term financial assessment and develop initiatives that will support Webb's long-term financial health.
